Help SwishDM close more clients.

Jonathan, I'll build your LinkedIn audience around the buyers you want, start warm conversations and follow up around your sales calls.

> We start with your account, reaching ecommerce founders and marketing leaders selling into the US.

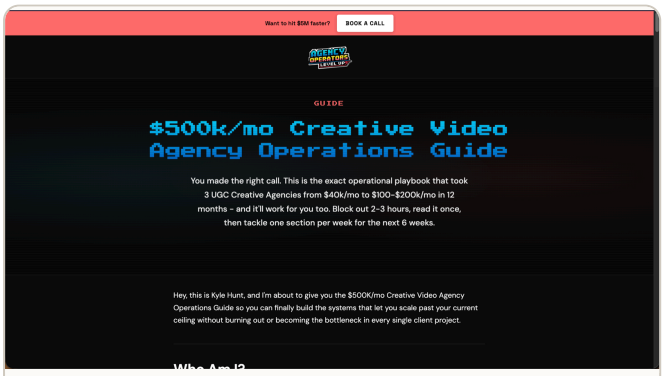

Content that grows your buyer audience.

Five posts a week, built around your team's SEO, GEO, migrations and digital PR experience. We want relevant buyers following, engaging and starting conversations.

- Research to publishing: writing, carousels and branded visuals, using your calls, talks and team Slack.
- Content mix: two reach posts, two mid-funnel posts and one buyer-focused post each week, with useful ideas repurposed into X articles.

Resources buyers want to keep.

I build useful guides and tools around your offer when they fit the strategy. They give buyers a reason to share their email. Newsletters keep that audience engaged as it grows.

Warm outreach. A relevant reason to reply.

I find buyers through your engagers, network and relevant industry conversations, then check their company and role.

- Personal outreach: LinkedIn invites, DMs and available InMail credits.
- Custom resources: a useful finding in the first message, with a deeper review where there's a good fit.

For SwishDM, that could be where a direct competitor appears in AI answers, with the questions and sources behind it.

Follow through to a sales decision.

Replies, qualification & booking

I manage the conversation, check fit and move suitable buyers towards a call. Expert questions come to you.

Before the call

I keep the buyer engaged and give you a brief on who they are, what they need and what to cover.

After the call

Your notes guide follow-up, next steps and reactivation when the timing improves. You handle the sales call and close.

Working together: a dashboard to see the work and Slack for feedback.

Your part: source material, account access and approvals, sales calls, call feedback and client payment records.

Starting audience: ecommerce businesses selling into the US, around $5–10m in revenue, with room for a $5,000+ retainer.

The performance model.

$1,000 USD every 30 days, paid upfront.

20% Of collected retainer revenue from each client we source, for their first 3 consecutive service months.

90-day minimum: $3,000, plus commission.
Then the service continues in 30-day billing periods.

See a commission example

A sourced client pays $6,000 a month. 20% is $1,200 per month: $3,600 across their first 3 consecutive service months, if collected.

Commission is invoiced separately from the $1,000 base fee. Only those service months count, even if payment arrives later.

Cancellation	30 days' written notice, ending no earlier than day 90. Unused prepaid days are refunded within 14 days.
After we stop	Sourced leads still count if they sign or first pay within 180 days. New inquiries must arrive within 90 days, be traced to our work and meet that same 180-day deadline.
